Description

Situated high in the village of Stavropigio, this plot of approximately 1,901 m² offers a rare opportunity to build a home in a setting shaped by history and nature. Located very close to the old castle of Stavropigio, the land enjoys a strong sense of place and a quiet, established atmosphere.

From the plot, there are open and far-reaching views across the village and into the surrounding landscape. Its elevated position brings light, air, and a feeling of space, while remaining connected to village life.

Stavropigio is known for its peaceful character and direct access to beautiful walks in nature, making it well suited to those who enjoy an outdoor lifestyle. At the same time, everyday amenities are close at hand. The nearby village of Kambos offers a range of tavernas, shops, and a pharmacy, providing convenience without compromising on tranquillity.

Several beaches in the area can be reached within a short drive, and the city of Kalamata – with its airport, hospital, markets, and cultural life – is also easily accessible. This balance of privacy, nature, and connectivity makes the plot suitable both for permanent living and as a retreat.

The size of the land allows flexibility for a well-considered home and garden, offering space without isolation. It is a place for those who wish to live in harmony with the landscape, where history, views, and modern practicality come together naturally.
